THE INDIAN WAR.

Hancock's Expedition—The Indians on the War Path—Three Men Killed, Scalped and Burned—General Custer in Pursuit.

ST. LOUIS, April 26.—The Democrat's correspondent with General Hancock's Indian expedition sends the following: Deserted Cheyenne Camp, thirty miles from Fort Larned, April 18.—Dispatches were received last night at headquarters from General Custer, that the Indians had burned three stations on the Smoky Hill route, killed three men, and scalped and burned them. Orders have been sent to each post on the Santa Fee and Smoky Hill routes to be on the alert, and informing them that the Indians had broken out at last, and intended to be true to threats which they issued during the winter.

This raid is attributed to the Sioux, who encamped with the Cheyennes in this village. General Custer has divided his command, taking five companies of cavalry himself, to pursue the main body of the Cheyennes and Sioux, and three companies of cavalry after the band that committed the raid, and who are supposed to be part of those Sioux that committed the massacre at Phil. Kearney. We strike out to Fort Dodge to-morrow.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Herald's Fort Sedgwick, Nebraska, special of the 25th, says: "The council between the special Commissioners and the Brule and Ogalalla bands of Sioux Indians, representing seven hundred warriors, has been concluded. The Indians agreed to go upon a temporary reservation along the river Republican during the existing hostilities.

A war party of eighteen Brule Sioux came in last night from Powder river desiring peace. One of the party acknowledged their participation in the Fort Phil Kearney massacre. They state that the Indians engaged numbered two thousand. Twelve of them were killed, among whom were three chiefs, and many were wounded.

Hostilities between the southern Cheyennes and Hancock's troops were reported. If these hostilities continue, a general Indian war is inevitable.

The Democrat's St. Joseph special says late arrivals from Helena, Montano, report large bodies of Crows, Blackfeet and Sioux massing in the vicinity of Fort Benton, and it was expected that an attack on the Fort was intended. A regiment of troops was forming at Fort Helena to operate against the Indians.

A dispatch from Julesburg on the 16th to the Denver News states that on the previous afternoon a detachment of troops from Fort Mitchell crossed the river and made a dash on the Indians camped five miles above, recapturing some twenty head of mules. The troops took the Indians by surprise and succeeded in killing seven of them, when the Indians rallied and drove the soldiers back across the river into the Fort, not, however, without suffering from a galling fire kept up by the retreating troops.

The Indians remained in force near fort Mitchell, and showed a strong desire to fight, but evidently are afraid to attack the fort.

Buried Alive—Wonderful Escape from the Grave—An Indiana Soldier Two Days Under Ground—Five Coffins Piled Upon Him—The Situation Described as Agreeable.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript tells the following story which makes large drafts upon the reader's credulity.

A gentleman of New Albany, Floyd county, Indiana, a respectable and perfectly credible man, now a clerk in the Pension Bureau, Washington, was formerly a soldier in Co. F, 38th Indiana Volunteers. In 1862 he was stationed at St. Louis. While stationed there he was taken down with small pox, and apparently died; placed in a coffin and immediately entombed. As the soldier's tomb was rather rapidly filled, five other coffins were soon piled on his. He lay there two and a half days, when he became somewhat conscious, and his first feeling was a suffocating sensation. His screams alarmed the German sentinel guarding his tomb, who, frightened, ran, dropping his gun, which was discharged. The report aroused Mr. M. still more to a sense of his condition and awful location. He redoubled his screams, bringing a rush of soldiers to the tomb, who soon got him out and relieved him from his terrible confinement. He is confident he should have suffocated in fifteen minutes. He says that, though never conscious of his dreadful situation, his mind was always active, and his sensations unspeakably delightful—seeming to float through scenes of surpassing beauty, amid strains of delicious music, such, to use his own words, as he has never heard since. For obvious reasons, he does not wish his name to be published, but your correspondent will vouch for his character.

O. H. Haskins, of Pioneer, proposes to farm the lands belonging to his company on Bennehoff Reserve, as the price of oil is so low, and has advertised for seven hundred gardeners. He is determined to make dividend for the company if possible.

ODD FELLOWS' PARADE.

The Odd Fellows had a fine parade to-day. An oration and an original ode were given at the National Theatre. The celebration closed this evening by an entertainment to the visiting brethren and the widows and orphans of the order.

ODD FELLOWS' STATISTICS.

In an oration before the Odd Fellows to-day, it was stated the receipts of the order throughout the country for the year ending July last, were $1,100,000, of which $96,000 were expended for burials, $93,000 for the relief of widows and orphans, and $630,000 for the relief of brethren in distress.

THE RECONSTRUCTION INJUNCTIONS.

Attorney General Stanberry spoke at length in the Supreme Court to-day, in opposition to the petition of Georgia for an injunction. His argument was to the effect that the Court had no jurisdiction; that the case was not within the reason or spirit of the constitution; that the reconstruction act, as executed by the President, works no hardships to the people of the south, as they can do as they please under it; and that this was a political case and could only be reached by political remedies.

Mr. O'Conner argued for an injunction on the ground that it was ordered to be done under acts of Congress. It was in all its length and breadth unconstitutional and void.

The argument will be resumed next Friday, when Robert H. Walker will be heard for the State of Mississippi, and the Attorney General will reply.

THE REGISTRATION.

The registration of voters in this city, so far as completed, shows a white majority of seven hundred.

Horrible Murder of an Old Woman in Philadelphia—Arrest of the Supposed Murderer—He Threatens Suicide.

Thursday the 25th inst., a fearful murder was brought to light in Philadelphia, a brief announcement of which we had by telegraph. About three o'clock on the afternoon of that day, Mr. Adam Magilton, aged seventy five years, left his dwelling at Thirteenth and Shippen street, to go to a store hard by for the purpose of making a purchase. Upon returning he rapped at the door and it was opened from the inside, and a young man named George W. Winemore, an occasional visitor at the house, stood inside the entry. He had no hat on, yet did not appear in the least excited. As soon as he saw Mr Magilton he said, "Your wife is murdered, come in and see." "Murdered!" exclaimed Mr. Magilton' "That can't be, as it is but a short time since I left her. He accompanied Winemore to the kitchen, and there a horrible sight met his vision. Extended on the floor lay the wife, her skull crushed in with blows from a hammer, and her throat cut from ear to ear. The hammer was close to her head, but no knife or other sharp instrument could be found in the room with which the throat had been cut. Close to one of her hands was the ball of yarn which Mrs. Magilton had been using in her knitting, and at her feet, overturned, was the rocking chair upon which she had been sitting. Her position on the floor, the position of the rocking chair and the place where the ball of yarn was found, all unmistakably showed that she had been approached from behind, that the blow with the hammer upon the head was given as she sat in the chair; that she either fell or was pulled from the chair to the floor, where the murderer, not satisfied with the fiendish malignity he had already shown, finished the deed by cutting her throat. There were seven blows on the head, all of them penetrating the skull, and causing wounds sufficient to produce death independent of the cut on the throat. The hammer with which the blows were inflicted was what is known as a riveting hammer. It belonged to Mr. Magilton, and was kept in the box attached to the table. There was no blood in any part of the room except immediately under her head; nor was there any appearance of a struggle whatever. Nothing except the part about the body was in disorder in the room. The work-table contained a number of articles, and everything was, no doubt, as she placed it.

The victim, Mrs. Dorcas Magilton, was about sixty-two years old, and was the mother of General Joseph Magilton, one of the brave and accomplished brigade commanders of the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps of Volunteers, who is a great favorite with all classes here. The motive of the murderer is unknown.

Winemore was taken to the Second District Station House, where he was searched by Lieutenant Hampton, and his clothing subjected to a rigid examination. There were in his possession two two dollar bills, stowed away in his vest pocket. It is stated that on Wednesday evening a son-in-law of Mrs. Magilton gave her two two dollar bills, and after her death they were not found on her person, but the money taken from Winemore has not yet been identified as that in Mrs. M.'s possession. There was also found on his person the following letter, which would seem to indicate on his part a determination to commit suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, April 22, 1867.—To My Friends:—This sad calamity is caused by my enemies, those who were my pretended friends. I have been accused of many things which are utterly false. God knows I am innocent of them. This note is intended especially for M. M., of this city, although I forgive them what they have done. I prefer death to dishonor, for it rests a stigma on my name and character. I have tried to bear them all, but it bears me down with trouble. I now bid all earthly friends and enemies farewell in this life. Let the past be forgotten, Yours in truth,

GEORGE WINEMORE.

No blood could be seen upon Winemore, nor had he a knife in his possession. His statement was that he went into the house and found Mrs. Magilton in the position already described; that he had no difficulty in getting in as the door was unlocked, but after the discovery, he locked it in order that he might search the house for the party or parties who had committed the murder. He says that after making this search he was about to come out on the street, when he heard some one at the door, and upon going there, met Mr. Magilton.

After Winemore was taken into custody a thorough search of the house was made. There are no indications of a robbery. One or more of the bureau drawers were open, but the contents had not been disturbed. A razor was found in the yard. It was identified as the property of Winemore.

The supposed assassin is about twenty-four years old, and has been but recently discharged from the regular army. He was well acquainted with the Magilton's, and often took his meals at their house. He seems to be perfectly sane, but denies having committed the crime. The circumstances are strong in putting the act in his hands.

John W. Mickey, the individual about whom there has been much ado for some days past, from the fact of his being the party wronged, as alleged, in the habeas corpus matter, which comes up for hearing this morning before Judge Williams, appeared before Alderman Nicholson, on Thursday, and made information, charging "that while John B. Sarber was conducting him under arrest, the said Sarber being an officer of the police, or constable in the city of Pittsburgh, county of Allegheny, upon a warrant issued by T. A. Haldeman, a magistrate of Fayette county, endorsed by John A. Strain, one of the Aldermen of the city of Pittsburgh, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, and that while thus under arrest extorted fifty dollars from the deponent, saying that if he (deponent) would give him (Sarbar) fifty dollars, he (Sarber) would see that deponent was not put in prison, and told deponent to keep this to himself and tell it to nobody—and did thereby extort said money from said deponent while in the execution of and under color of his office, unlawfully and unjustly."

Upon this information Sarber was arrested, and, denying the charge in positive terms, avowing that he had not received fifty dollars as stated, demanded a hearing, which took place last evening before Alderman Nicholson—A. G. Cochran, Esq., appearing for the prosecution, and F. H. Collier and Wm. M. Moffitt, Esqs., for the defendant.

The prosecutor, Mickey, was sworn. He was arrested on Monday night last, at the circus, by officer Smith, and lodged in the tombs, and remaining there over night, was next day transferred to the county prison. Wednesday morning he was taken from the jail by officer Sarber, who had been deputed to proceed with him to Uniontown, Fayette county. He was handcuffed, and first taken to the residence of officer Sarber, where they took breakfast, his custodian kindly relieving him of the hand-cuffs in order to allow him to partake of the meal. They then started for the Connellsville Railroad depot, Sarber again applying the "bracelets." Prisoner remarked before taking breakfast, and on the way to Sarber's house from the jail, that he did not want to be locked up when they got to Uniontown. Sarber expressed the belief that he would not be, adding "a little money would be nothing to you." Prisoner said he would rather give a hundred dollars than go to prison, or be locked up. Sarber said, "give me fifty dollars and I'll be your friend," or words to that effect, and giving assurance that he would see that the prisoner was not put in jail. The prisoner then gave him a fifty dollar bill, his hands not being so closely cuffed as to prevent him taking out his pocket book to pay the money. Arriving at the depot, prisoner paid the fare to Uniontown for himself and Sarber, or rather gave Sarber the money to get the tickets, not being able himself to do so very conveniently on account of the manacles with which he was burdened. On the cars he endeavored to prevail upon Sarber to take off the handcuffs, urging that he would make no attempt to escape. He pressed his request the more, inasmuch as in the same car with them officer Seth Wilmot had in charge a man, a horse-thief, who had twice broken jail, yet he did not have him handcuffed. Sarber was unrelenting; his prisoner remained hand-cuffed. A lawyer named Ross was encountered in the car, and, at the instance of Sarber, and for a fee of ten dollars, consented to do all in his power for the young man in front. Upon arriving at Uniontown, Sarber, his prisoner, and Mr. Ross, the attorney, proceeded to the office of Justice Haldeman, where, after some conversation, the prisoner was released upon depositing one hundred dollars in money and his watch—worth fifty dollars—as security. He returned to the city, on the same train with officer Sarber, and soon after his arrival preferred the charge of extortion.

The above is in substance what the prosecutor testified. He underwent a searching cross-examination by General Collier, without, however, weakening his testimony, of whatever weight it may be considered as going to sustain the charge of extortion. He persistently reiterated the statement that he had given Sarber fifty dollars, and Sarber was quite as persistent in denying the fact in suggesting to his counsel questions to be asked his accuser.

Mr. Cochran, counsel for the prosecution, took occasion at intervals to denounce the conduct of Sarber outrageous, particularly in regard to the hand-cuffing, which he said was wholly without authority of law.

The next witness called was J. R. Mickey, father of the accuser, who testified to having had interviews with Sarber. He said Sarber had offered to compromise the matter by paying back the fifty dollars and the costs of the case, and that he (the witness) would have accepted the proposition, had not his counsel (Mr. Cochran) advised that by so doing he would render himself liable to prosecution. Sarber had said that he was a poor man, and urged this circumstance upon witness as an inducement to settle the case. Witness had replied that if he (Sarber) would convince him that he was a poor man, he (witness) would give him fifty dollars.

There was something said about Sarber agreeing to accompany the prosecutor to Ohio, where his father was at the time of the arrest, by way of showing that this was held out as an inducement for the payment of the fifty dollars. This, however, did not clearly appear, as far as we were able to apprehend. Much of the testimony given was entirely irrelevant, the Alderman allowing the largest latitude, for the purpose, as he said, of sifting out the truth.

After hearing two or three witnesses for the defense, who did not testify to anything material, the Alderman announced that he would reserve until to-day his decision as to whether he should hold the defendant to answer or dismiss the case.

There were some facts elicited, concerning the release of Mickey from jail, which, if presented, will have some bearing in the habeas corpus contempt case, to be heard to-day. It looks to us as if there was some very "sharp practice" in the matter. We will, however, reserve further remarks, and await developments.

Meeting of Methodist Bishops.

A special meeting of the Board of Bishops of the M. E. Church convened yesterday morning at Christ Church. Sessions were held morning, afternoon and evening. It is expected they will get through sometime to-day, from the rapid manner in which they have dispatched business. The principal object of the meeting is to perfect the plan of Episcopal visitation, previous to their meeting in the Fall; consider questions involved in their administration in the Episcopal work, and arrange various matters relative to the extensive foreign and domestic missions under the direction of this Church.

All the Bishops are present, except Bishops Scott and Baker, namely, Bishops Morris, Janes, Simpson, Ames, Clark, Thomson and Kingsley. The venerable Bishop Morris, senior Bishop, is in feeble health, and in view of his condition, Rev. A. B. Wambaugh, of Springfield, Ohio, accompanies the Bishop as his traveling companion.

It is expected two or three of the Bishops will be compelled to leave the city to-day to fill engagements elsewhere. We learn the following appointments for to-morrow have been arranged: Liberty Street M. E. Church, Bishop Simpson will preach at the morning service; at Christ Church Bishop Jones will occupy the pulpit at half-past ten o'clock. At the close of the sermon a collection will be taken up for the suffering poor of the South. Ames Chapel is to be opened to-morrow morning for divine service, Bishop Thompson preaching the dedicatory sermon. The traveling companion of Bishop Morris, Rev. A. B. Wambaugh, preaches at Beaver street, Allegheny, to-morrow forenoon.

DIVISION OF THE PITTSBURGH CONFERENCE.

A committee of ministers and laymen, numbering about eighteen, from different portions of the Pittsburgh Conference, meets next Tuesday in this city, to consider the question of a division of the Pittsburgh M. E. Conference at the ensuing General Conference, which meets at Chicago in May, 1868.

BISHOP SIMPSON.

This eloquent and far-famed minister will preach in Liberty Street M. E. Church, Rev. W. H. Locke pastor, to-morrow morning. The mere announcement of his name will doubtless attract an immense audience.

St. Mary's Cemetery.

We are indebted to James S. Devlin, Esq., superintendent of the beautiful St. Mary's Cemetery, near Lawrenceville, for an early copy of the general report for 1867. In 1849 the very desirable grounds for Catholic sepulture were purchased at $700 per acre. The cemetery contains more than forty-five acres, and like the Allegheny Cemetery, which it adjoins, is one of the most charming cities of the dead in America. The first interment was made on the 27th day of December, 1849, since which time nearly nine thousand bodies have found a final resting place within its boundaries. The financial affairs of the cemetery are in most flattering condition, and too much credit cannot be awarded the successive Board of Managers who have so faithfully and energetically fulfilled their important trust and discharged the duties devolving upon them.

Case Settled.—The case of S. N. Evans against William Shields and Thomas Pritchard, charged with malicious mischief in breaking the bar on board the steamer "Elisha Bennett," was settled at a hearing yesterday. Defendants paid the costs in the case, and also damages for the loss sustained by the owners of the boat.

The Infanticide Case in Allegheny City.

In yesterday's paper we gave the particulars of a case in Allegheny, in which a young lady, named Ruth Ann Grubbs, had been accused of taking the life of her child, and that her two sisters had also been arrested as abettors to the crime. The jury impanneled by Coroner Clawson to inquire into the cause and manner of the child's death, met at the Mayor's office in Allegheny last evening, and proceeded to take testimony, which resulted in the jury finding a verdict that the child came to its death by violence at the hands of its mother.

Dr. D. W. Rankin testified that he had been called on Wednesday evening to attend professionally the mother of the child; that when he came into the house where she was he asked her if she had not been delivered of a child lately, which she stoutly denied at first, but afterwards confessed; that after search had been made and the child found, that he, in conjunction with Dr. Frank Campbell, had made a post-mortem examination, and he said it was his firm belief that the child had been born alive; that it was fully matured, and an examination of the lungs, &c., proved conclusively to him that it was alive when born.

Officer Harman and night watchman Poland testified to having procured the services of night soilers, and to having the body taken out of the privy and conveyed to the Mayor's office.

Mrs. Annie E. Cahill testified that she lived on Ann street, No. 26, next door to the house occupied by the Grubb's family; that she moved there the first of April, and had heard the neighbors remark that there was something wrong with Ruth Ann Grubbs, and she would have to be watched. She further testified to Ruth Ann being in the privy on the evening of Wednesday, and to seeing her sister standing outside and calling for her to come in the house, but did not know whether she gave birth to the child there or in the house.

Mrs. Mary Martin testified that she lived at No. 24, Ann street, and had been acquainted with the Grubbs family since the 1st day of April; that she heard a talk on Monday, about giving some one medicine in the Grubbs family; who it was, or for what purpose, she did not know. She had an opinion that Ruth Ann was going to have a child, but had no notion that it would be murdered. She had seen her in the privy on Wednesday evening, and tried to get her out, but she would not come; that she and Mrs. Cahill finally brought her out of the privy; and further, she thought that Ruth Ann's sisters had no hand in the destruction of the child, because they also tried to get her to come out of the privy.

Mrs. Elvira Yenatti, testified that she lived in part of the house occupied by the Grubbs' family; that she had noticed Ruth Ann previous to the alleged birth and thought she was enciente; she also heard Ruth Ann afterwards say that she would be hung for what she had done to the child.

Dr. Rankin and Mrs. Cahil were recalled, but as their testimony, in the main, has been given, we will not repeat it.

The whole testimony went to show that Ruth Ann was the mother of the child—that it had been born alive—and afterwards killed by its mother. The jury accordingly found a verdict: "That the deceased infant came to its death on the night of 24th of April, by violence at the hands of its mother, Ruth Ann Grubbs, and that Elizabeth and Sarah Grubbs are exonerated from any complicity in the death of said deceased infant."

The two sisters were released from confinement last evening, and the mother still remains at her home on Ann street, under the surveillance of the police.

Amusements.

THAYER & NOYES' CIRCUS.—Last night there was another immense audience in attendance at the great circus of Thayer & Noyes, now exhibiting in the rear of Trimble's, on Penn street. Indeed so clever a show might run for months in the city and be crowded with visitors. It is complete in every department, and everybody should take the opportunity offered of attending the best traveling circus in the world. A matinee for ladies and children will be given this afternoon, and the last grand performance here will take place to-night. The circus exhibits on the Allegheny Commons next week.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Owing, doubtless, to the presence of the circus, the attendance last night at the Opera House, was very slim, although unusually fashionable. Madame Scheller and J. Newton Gotthold appeared to great advantage in the "Peasant and Countess," and were admirably supported by the very excellent stock company. To-night will be positively the last appearance of the lyric artiste and the young American tragedian, and we hope they will be greeted with such an audience as their high histronic abilities are eminently worthy.

AFTERNOON MATINEE.—This afternoon a grand fashionable matinee for ladies and children will be held at the New Opera House, on which occasion "Pocahontas" will be produced.

TAKES A BENEFIT.—The theatre-going community has long held Emma Skerritt in high esteem, she being an actress of no ordinary merit and ability, and one who has ever striven to do full justice to the character assigned her in the play. Versatile, charming and decidedly pleasing, this lady has won for herself a host of friends in this city, who will be only too glad to learn that they will have an opportunity of testifying their high regard for her as an actress and lady, at a benefit tendered her by the management of the New Opera House, to take place on Monday night next. A rare good bill is in preparation, and we trust every seat may be secured in advance, and that the benefit may result in something more substantial than the name. A Pittsburgh lady of youth, talent and beauty will make her debut upon the occasion, in an important character.

BLACK CROOK.—The preparations for the Black Crook at the Opera House still go on, and Manager Henderson is determined that the great spectacle shall be presented to a Pittsburgh audience in as brilliant a style as secured it so much popularity in the East.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—M'lle Laurent, the unequalled danseuse, continues to be the great attraction at this popular place of amusement. She is the embodiment of grace and beauty. The entertainment offered nightly by Manager Meyers is very well worthy a visit, and it is no wonder that through his exertions to render this a popular and first class place of amusement, the attendance has of late largely increased. A great Saturday night bill is offered, as will be seen by reference to our amusement column.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—W. C. Smythe, Esq., a manager of decided abilities, and a gentleman who has hitherto successfully catered to the amusement loving community, has leased the "Old Drury," and with a first class stock company will open on the evening of May 6th. He has made all of his engagements, and is now superintending the modeling and renovation of the Theatre, preparatory to the re-opening. We wish him all the success his tact, talent and enterprise deserve.

THE APOCALYPSE.—The great exhibition known as the Apocalypse, or the Book of Revelations unsealed, and visions of St. John presented to view, will open at Masonic Hall next Monday night. The press of Europe and America have combined to award the highest praise to this great moral work of art. The exhibition is novel and rare, and fully interprets the vision of St. John, with living tongues on canvas to explain the beautiful, though mysterious, language of the Book of Revelations. If half so grand as our exchanges paint it, the exhibition will certainly prove a great attraction here, where art has so many admirers and novelty so many followers. We patiently await Monday night for the first presentation of the marvellous exhibition.

Charged with Larceny.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. William H. Bradley arrived in the city from Carmichaels, Green county. During the afternoon, he was passing along Wood street, when he was hailed by C. Buckley, proprietor of a store on the above named street, and requested to come in and examine the stock. When in, Mr. Buckley insisted on him buying a new hat. After considerable talk over the matter, and an examination of the different styles, Mr. Bradley concluded to buy a very fine hat, which was offered to him for the sum of two dollars. When the bargain was completed, and Mr. Bradley about putting his hat on, the proprietor offered to do it up and send it to him. Mr. Bradley preferred putting the hat on and, as he alleges, when in the act of doing so, Mr. Buckley snatched it out of of his hand and handed him down an inferior article, remarking at the same time that that was the hat he had purchased, and the only one he could take away with him. He remonstrated with the vender of hats, but to no purpose, and so went out minus hat and money. After consultation he went back and demanded his two dollars. He alleges that Mr. Buckley then threw him down one dollar, and said it was all he had received from him. Mr. Bradley, laboring under the impression that he had shared the fate of the man who went down from Jerusalem to Jerico, started off to the Mayor's office and lodged an information against Buckley for larceny. The accused was arrested and after a hearing was held to bail for Court.

Suicide.—Catharine Grube, widow of the late Levi Grube, aged sixty-five years, took her life by hanging in the garret of her residence, in Warwick township, Berks county, on Tuesday. The deceased was a lady of large pecuniary means. No cause has been assigned for the rash act, except that she has been for some time laboring under a depression of spirts. An inquest was held over the body by Wm. H. Spera, Deputy Coroner, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts.

County Sabbath School Institutes.

All friends of the Sabbath School in Western Pennsylvania will doubtless rejoice to see the following programme for county Sabbath School meetings that is shortly to be carried out:

The Institutes are to be held as follows: At Greensburg, for Westmoreland county, on the 30th of April and the 1st of May; at Beaver, for Beaver county, on Thursday and Friday, the 2d and 3d of May; at Butler, for Butler county, on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 7th and 8th of May, and at Uniontown, for Fayette county, on the 14th and 15th of May.

R. G. Pardee, Esq., of New York, the distinguished Sabbath School lecturer, will conduct the Institute at Greensburg. The other Institutes will all be conducted by a gentleman who has also become recognized as one of the few most successful laborers in this cause, Rev. J. E. Gilbert, of Buffalo, New York, editor of the Sunday School Standard. Mr. Gilbert has conducted many of the largest and most interesting Institutes held in the principal cities of New York, and other States, and he will be attended by Mrs. Gilbert, who, at other cities, has made these meetings of special importance and interest to ladies.

It is expected that many of our most earnest and able Sabbath School friends in Pittsburgh, will also attend the Institutes in the adjoining counties, and help stir up the hearts of the people to greater enthusiasm in this great work, and devotion to it. "Blow ye the trumpet, blow."

Closing Lecture.

The closing lecture of the season was delivered before the Mercantile Library Association last evening, in the Academy of Music, by Henry Vincent, Esq. J. B. Scott, Esq., introduced the lecturer, and returned the thanks of the Association to the audience and the public, who patronized it so liberally during the season.

Mr Vincent's subject was, "Italy and Garibaldi," which was handled in a most masterly style, and gave evidence that the distinguished speaker is thoroughly acquainted with the past and present history and condition of the Italian Peninsula.

The thanks of the community are due, we think, to the Library Association, and especially to the Lecture Committee, for the manner in which they provided, during the season now come to a close, for their intellectual improvement and enjoyment. There may be some who may entertain the notion that certain things might have been done differently. It is easy to find fault, but from the intimate knowledge that we have of the difficulties of the case—greatly increased this year by the nature of the building in which the lectures were delivered—we believe the committee did the very best under the circumstances, and, with the same obstacles in the way, we doubt if matters could have been arranged more satisfactorily. Personally we can bear testimony to the uniform courtesy and attention shown us by the committee.

Disorderly.

John O'Keefe, a resident of the Point, made information yesterday before the Mayor, against Patrick McDevitt, also of the Point, charging him with disorderly conduct. Deponent alleges that defendant's wife assaulted him, and that defendant was present aiding and abetting her by the use of violent and disorderly demonstrations. The accused was arrested and had a hearing before the Mayor. On the hearing, the fact was developed that Mrs. M. was amenable to the charge, if anybody. Mrs. McDevitt, in testifying, stated that the deponent had been "playing off sick," and when he went out lately she "threw it up to him." He made no reply—but looked at her "very ugly," which meant about the same thing. She thought he was going to strike her, so she anticipated him by breaking the slop bucket over his head. He still said nothing, but passed up stairs meekly, but with the same ugly look on his countenance. She thought certain he was going to strike her this time, so she got the clothes pole and made a charge upon him. No blows were struck this time by either party, but O'Keefe started to the Mayor's office and made the information. On the hearing it did not appear that McDevitt had taken any part in the skirmish, and hence the Mayor discharged him.

Fine Portraits.

There are upon exhibition in Mr. B. L. H. Dabbs' art gallery windows, 28 St. Clair street, a number of the finest Photographic Portraits we have ever seen. One especially, the portrait of the deceased wife of a young gentleman of this city, is specially worthy of notice, as it is a most faithful likeness of the lady, the more marvellous since it is a copy of a smaller picture. Mr. Dabbs has brought the photographic art as close to perfection as one can well imagine, and all of his pictures reflect the highest credit upon his gallery. Card photographs, cabinet pictures, and all the various styles introduced, are taken in superior style, at moderate prices, in any kind of weather. Any of our readers passing Mr. Dabbs should not fail examining the fine specimens upon exhibition in his windows, for they are well worthy of close observation. Remember the place, 28 St. Clair street.

The plaintiff entered in a contract to deliver at the companies' refinery two barges of oil, at 14½c per gallon, but when it was delivered the latter refused to receive it, for the reason, as alleged by defendant, that it was not delivered at the time specified. The oil was afterwards sold at eleven cents, and the action is brought to recover the difference. On trial.

Stabbing Affair in Etna.

Thursday morning a disturbance occurred at the tavern of Patrick Dunn, in Etna, near Sharpsburgh, during which George W. McCutcheon was stabbed in the face by one of the parties, the instrument, a knife, entering below the right eye to a considerable depth. Information was made before Justice J. S. Smith, charging two of the parties with felonious assault and battery, and a warrant was issued for their arrest. The justice and ex-constable Dillon, after a couple of hour's search, arrested them at the house of a man named Kelley, in Sharpsburg, where they were found asleep on the floor. A commitment was made out, but before being consigned to prison the accused succeeded in getting bail in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

availing. In new facts, the old organizations would be manifest anachronisms. There is no room for them. Of course there are persons who do not see this. They do not consider parties as the representations of certain distinct and vitalizing ideas, but purely as machines for promoting the ambitions of particular individuals or classes. In their conception the old party with which they acted, and by means of which they attained possibly a degree of conspicuity flattering to their vanity, is better than any other that can be devised. The masses of the people, who do not seek and never expect to hold office, are of a very different way of thinking. With them it is essential that the party or parties with which they act should hold definite and appropriate relations to the condition of the case as it stands.

Hence, within the last few weeks developments have come to the surface in various portions of the South showing that the Republican party, hitherto known in that section only by the hearing of the ear, is quietly perfecting its organization. From the day the party was called into existence there were large numbers of people in the Slave-holding States, white as well as blacks, who approved its principles and methods, and would gladly have co-operated with it, but were restrained through a laudable desire for their bodily safety. The democrats, whose power was supreme in all that region, did not scruple to crush out by mob law all men who had the temerity to acknowledge or exhibit sympathy with the party avowedly opposed to slavery. It did not matter to them what the constitutional rights of such men were, or how estimable they had proved to be in private or public relations. They could not remain in communion with the Republicans and live. What was conceived to be the necessity of Slavery was superior to all the provisions of the Constitution; to all rights of citizenship; and to all social, moral and intellectual excellence. This brutal physical coercion being rumored, there is opportunity for muffled and suppressed affinity with the Republican party to crop out, without fear, and in defiance of its old adversaries. Besides, the Republican party, though resting under the reputation of sectionalism, has won some memorable triumphs in the interests of the nation and humanity. It has extirpated Slavery, suppressed rebellion, enforced nationality, and vindicated in the full blaze of sun-light the efficacy of government by the people. The blacks, delivered from the thraldom of ages by its wisdom and courage, take to it naturally with a sentiment somewhat akin to the fervor of devotion. In their unskilled minds the suggestion comes like a flash of intuition that the party which has done so much for them, can and will do more.

On the part of mutitudes of whites the predilection, long locked in their bosoms as a secret not to be whispered even in the confidences of friendship, has now an opportunity to display itself in the most formal manner, without subjecting themselves to violences. Nor are these the only recruits to the Republican ranks from among the whites. Consistency, earnestness, success, are sure to attract admiration and draw followers. Thousands who would not have joined the Republicans had slavery survived the war, are ready to act with them now that it has disappeared forever.

Attempts are making, moreover, to establish a Conservative party. In quiet times, rippled only by a comparatively small number of agitators, Conservatism is easy and fashionable. All the prosperous and powerful classes patronize it, because it gives them assurance of continued wealth, influence and dignity. They dislike change, because they cannot tell what it may do for them. But, in a period like the present, when all men are terribly in earnest, when the fountains of the great deep are broken up, when civil and social life is wrenched from its old moorings, and adrift on the sea requiring bold and skillful pilotage, there are not Conservatives enough of any genuine sort, to make much ado about. If many pretend to be such they are only trying to palm off a deceit, relying upon the force of old traditions to overmatch fresh impulses.

In a period of violent and far-reaching revolution, such as this nation is passing through, the men who are truly conservatives are of no practical account. Their sympathies are with a past age, and not with that now on the scene of action. Had they been blessed with good sense they would have expired with the time to which they were suited, and not have made a mischievous attempt to project themselves into an era which has no use for their services and no respect for their inculcations.

DOUBLE HEADED:

For a long series of years the fortune of the Democratic party was made by wearing two faces, in imitation of Janus. One of these looked toward the white race, and said as plainly as features can be made to convey ideas and emotions, that the party was in favor of the largest Liberty. The other looked towards the black race, and said in a way not to be mistaken that the party was in favor of the most hateful aristocracy the light of the sun ever shone upon. Nor did any consciousness of shame, at the glaring inconsistency, abash it in the presence of the civilized world, or in view of the judgment of impartial history. Having stifled reason, and given passion and prejudice unlimited control, it did not appreciate the attitude in which it stood. Nor did it care. Its double position was profitable, and as for the rest, it was content to take the chances.

As soon as the blacks throughout the South had ballots delivered into their hands the Democrats conceived the idea of wearing double faces towards different groups of that race. The word was instantly passed along the line to "court the blacks" wherever they have the right to vote, but to heap all manner of contumely and reproaches on them where that right is withheld.

In accordance with this deceptive and dishonest policy, the Democrats are deferential to the blacks in the eleven revolted States; where they are numerous, and hold at least the balance of political power. There is something grotesque and amusing in the way they now explain to the blacks how tenderly they

the most

ing all

ling

votes of the ex-slaves are solicited, and to note how disposed the blacks are to use the utmost caution in determining how and for whom to cast their ballots.

In Pennsylvania and other States where the blacks enjoy personal freedom, but are yet debarred from political rights, the Democrats practice their old brutality and ruffianism towards them. The animosities and hatreds of the baser sorts of the whites are continually excited, and no efforts are spared to make the enfranchisement of the negroes odious.

When one face was carried towards one race, and a different face towards the other, the trick, however mean, was comparatively easy. Centuries of enslavement of the black race had made it excusable, if not popular, to heap all manner of abuse upon its members. Wit, irony, and sarcasm were not essential in this miserable work. Only an unlimited amount of blackguardism was required, polished off somewhat by a sanctimonious profession of zeal for fulfilling the scriptural malediction against Canaan. The task is harder now that the two faces are to be exhibited towards different portions of the same race. Sambo, in one locality, is to be rated sweet as a freshly blossomed rose in June, while in another district he is to be denounced as still emitting an intolerable musk. Like the "little joker" he is, now to be under one thimble, and anon under the other.

Now, we confess that the Democrats have great adroitness, the result of settled contempt for all elementary principles and long practice in treating them simply as counters in a game. Nevertheless we are convinced they have now attempted what is beyond their art. They cannot so carry this dissembling as not to be exposed. It is manifest what they will do. After some further trying, and hurtful failures, they will make an estimate of loss and gain, and so decide their permanent policy. At the next presidential election four millions of blacks will vote; not to exceed half a million will not. The strength of Democratic convictions will correspond to the proportions of these numbers. It will soon be as fashionable in Democratic meetings to eulogize Africa as Ireland. There may be no heart in the new laudation, but the necessities of the case will enforce a novel application of the injunction to "stoop to conquer." It has long been a Democratic axiom that however drunk a voter may be, the intoxication does not reach his ballot. By an adaptation of this rule it will be held that whatever diversities may exist in the complexions of voters, all ballots are white. This pleasant fiction of logic will reconcile the Democrats to any accession of strength they may be able to gain from the black race. It is possible, however, the blacks, under a feeling of self-respect, may become so select as to repel and refuse Democratic association. The New York World insists the blacks are remarkably well-behaved. The instinct that inclines them in that direction under circumstances of peculiar discouragement, may lead them under more favorable conditions to perceive an ungracious odor exhaling in Democratic crowds, and to avoid it.

PRISON STATISTICS.

The Journal of Prison Discipline for January, 1867, makes the statement, as the result of extensive and careful investigation, that seventy-five out of every hundred persons now incarcerated in the jails and penitentiaries of this country, served for longer or shorter periods in the loyal and rebel armies during the war recently closed. In the loyal States the prisoners, with rare exceptions, served in the loyal armies, while in the rebel States they served as exclusively in the insurgent forces. The inference naturally deducible from this bold presentation of the case is that military service is prejudicial to morality.

In general, perhaps, few or none will be found to dispute the accuracy of this deduction. War, in its best estate, is barbarism; and the most fearful penalty a nation pays for engaging in it is the retrogression made towards a savage condition of society. But, it will not do to judge of the effect of the late war exclusively or mainly by the number of soldiers since accused and convicted of crime. By far the larger portion of the criminal classes were swept or attracted into the military service. They got there through the force of many reasons. Some were drafted and coerced. Others went for the bounties offered. Not a few for the love of adventure. Many for license in prospect. A wild and uncultivated patriotism constrained multitudes. By far the greater part of all these would have become prison inmates if they had kept out of the armies, or if no war had existed. Their bias to crime antedated their soldiership.

While this is true, it is fair to conclude that the increase of crime ratably to population, and which has been very considerable, marks the general demoralization consequent upon the great struggle.

Moral Courage—A Thrilling Incident.

General Sherman says the greatest demand ever made on his moral courage was under the following circumstances:

The citizens of San Francisco were celebrating the Fourth of July in the large American theatre, which was packed to its utmost capacity. General Sherman was Chief Marshal, and occupied a seat near the front of the stage. The orator had completed his oration, the poet began his song, when one of his aids, white with fear, made his way down the middle aisle to the foot-lights, and beckoning the General's ear, whispered to him that the theatre had settled a foot and a half in one of the side walls, under the weight of the crowd, and might be expected at any moment to tumble on their heads in ruins. The General commanded him to sit down where he was, without turning his panic smitten face to the audience, and to say not one word. He then quietly sent an aid out to report the condition of the wall, then gave his apparent attention to the poem, expecting every moment, as he said, to see the pillars reeling and the roof falling in; but nevertheless, certain that any general and sudden movement and fright of the people would hasten the catastrophe and aggravate the ruin, while, by the ordinary slow method of dispersion, the danger might possibly be escaped. The exercise continued calmly to the close. The audience left the theatre quietly, without suspecting their peril, and the terrible destruction was averted by the presence of mind, the self-control of the brave soul who, contemplating at one glance all the possibilities of the case, decided upon the policy of duty, and awaited without one betraying glance, or treacherous change of complexion, the uncertain, tremendous consequences.

GENERAL NEWS.

—General Sickles, in command of the Department of North and South Carolina, has issued an order prohibiting the sale or gift of liquors to United States soldiers, sailors or marines.

—The Eight-hour bill which has been pending in the Ohio Legislature was lost on account of the House, before its final adjournment, refusing to take up and pass the Senate amendments to the bill.

—There is a great scarcity of desirable houses for country residences in the vicinity of Boston, and rents have gone up rapidly in consequence. The Traveller States that a small building was bought in Boston some e since for $65, and carried on a sloop to neighboring town, and now rents easily 0.

Engineer John Henry Shutter, a boy s of age, and the only son of Mr. hutter, of Washington city, was ac killed at Rock Hill college, Ellicott's Mills, Maryland, on Thursday morning, by a base ball bat, which slipped from the hands of a fellow student while he was attempting to strike a ball with it.

—It is understood in Washington that General Grant is engaged in preparing a general order of instructions to District Commanders under the Military Reconstruction Bill, in which he will define their duties and powers. His circular will have to be submitted to the President and Cabinet, and may be overruled or modified.

—Women are having their claims for educational privileges recognized in England. The new charter just granted to the London University not only admits women to general examinations to test their qualifications as governess, teachers, &c., but also to special examinations for degrees in medicine and law; and the British Medical Journal says that many more ladies are desirous of admission to the bar than to medical practice.

—The "Eastern Question" is as troublesome in Europe as ever. England holds aloof from the efforts of other nations to settle it. She will take no step whatever to hasten a premature dissolution of the Turkish Empire, preferring to await its demise from "internal causes." France, it is said, proposes that Turkey shall yield Candia to Greece, on obtaining a guarantee for the security of her remaining territory; but to this Russia objects, remarking that no Christian guarantees can be given insuring immunity for the persecution of other Christian peoples.

GIVE NATURE A LIFT.

People expect too much of Nature. They trifle with their health and their constitutions, and then are surprised that they fall sick.

The pressure of constant mental or bodily labor, upon the animal powers, is tremendous. Very few systems and constitutions can bear up against this pressure unassisted. And to this the unhealthy influences which lurk unseen in the air we breathe, the water we drink, the lassitude produced at this season by the change from the rigor of Winter to the warmth of Spring, and it would seem to require almost superhuman vigor to keep in perfect health without reinforcing the physical energies.

But how reinforce them? Certainly not with adulterated stimulants. There is no poison in the outer air, or in the atmosphere of furnace-heated rooms, or work-shops, or factories, so pernicious as those deadly-burning fluids. Why use them, when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a vegetable tonic without alloy, are everywhere obtainable? Nothing has ever been offered to the feeble and debilitated so harmless in its nature, so powerful in its invigorating effects, as this celebrated
STOMACHIC AND ALTERATIVE.
In the army and the navy, in new settlements, and in crowded cities, by old and young, rich and poor, it is used as a PROTECTIVE AND RESTORATIVE MEDICINE, with most gratifying results.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidneys of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. ap20

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—In the Orphans' Court in and for said county.

The petition of Ann Sutton, Administratrix of the estate of Harriet Bloor, deceased, and of Richard B. Sutton, Guardian of the minor children of Harriet Bloor, deceased, was presented to the Court, showing, That the said children to wit: Theodosia Bloor, Alfred Sutton Bloor and Louis James Bloor, are seized in fee of the following described property, situated in the Borough of Clarion, County of Clarion, and State of Pennsylvania, to wit: All those certain pieces or tracts of land situate in the Borough of Clarion, known and numbered in the plan of said Borough as out lots Nos. 47 and 48, and inlot No. 4, of No. 46, and inlots Nos. 168 and 169, all of which lots, by sundry conveyances in law, became vested in the said Harriet Bloor, now deceased.

Your petitioners therefore pray the Court to grant them an order to make sale of the said described real estate, with the appurtenances, for the maintenance and education of the said children, freed from any incumbrance arising out of any claim on the part of James H. Bloor as tenant by the courtesy; and also praying that the Court would direct a Citation to issue to the said James H. Bloor, to show cause why the prayer of the petitioners should not be granted, and the said described real estate be sold for the support and education of the said minors.

Now, therefore, we command you, the said James H. Bloor, that you be and appear before the Judges of our said Court, at an Orphans' Court to be holden at the Court House in the City of Pittsburgh, on SATURDAY, the FIRST DAY OF JUNE, at 10 o'clock A. M., and then and there show cause if any you have, why the prayer of the petitioners should not be granted, and the said described real estate to be sold, freed from any incumbrance arising out of any claim you, the said James H. Bloor, might have as tenant by the courtesy, and herein fail not.

Witness, the Hon JAMES P. STERRITT, President Judge of our said Court, at Pittsburgh, this 25th day of April, A. D. 1867.

Plans and specifications for this work can be obtained on application to this office, or to Gen. W. S. Smith, Superintending Engineer at Oak Park, Cook county, Illinois.

This iron work will be required to be delivered on or before the 10th of June, 1867, on board of a vessel either at Buffalo, N. Y., Cleveland, O., Detroit, Michigan, or Chicago, Ill., at the option of the bidder, but the place of delivery must be stated in the bid.

No bid will be received or considered except from bona fide manufacturers, and each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by the bidder and competent surety, that in the event of the acceptance of such bid the necessary contract will be entered into.

The sum for which the bidder proposes to furnish the iron work, according to the drawings and specifications, must be distinctly stated, and a copy of the printed specifications must be enclosed with the bid as evidence that there is no mistake as to the object of his proposal.

All proposals must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Iron Work for Waugoshance Light-house," and then enclosed in another envelope and addressed to the Chairman of the Light-house Board, Washington, D. C.

No bid will be considered that does not conform to the requirements of this advertisement.

PROGRESS OF SCIENCE.

Coal Superseded as Fuel for Steam Engines—Successful Experiments at the United States Navy Yard—Petroleum as Fuel—Enormous Saving in Space—Utility—Safety—Economy—Immense Advantages to Steam Navigation.

[From the Boston Bulletin.]

Last fall, Colonel Henry R. Foote, of Tennessee, who commanded a Union regiment in the late war, patented an invention for burning petroleum in steam boilers, upon which he has been at work some two years, and on which he has spent many thousand dollars. Colonel Foote associated with him Mr. J. H. Winsor, of Pennsylvania, and they came to Boston, set up a locomotive boiler in a little building on Chardon street, and for several months ran an engine with this new fire. During this time they made the acquaintance of Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of this city, who is well known as having energy and determination, which rarely fail to accomplish whatever he undertakes, and he became a joint owner with them in the invention, and has entire charge of all the business arrangements of the concern. He called the attention of the Navy Department to the subject, and forwarded certificates from Alban C. Stimers, of New York, a well known Engineer of high standing; of George B. N. Tower, late Chief Engineer U. S. N., and Chief of Marine Engineering staff at Charleston, and of unquestioned ability; of Captain Anderson of the Cunard steamer Africa, and of Governor Andrew, Professor Rogers, and several engineers who had examined the fire on Chardon street.

Mr. Isherwood at once ordered a board of three chief engineers to examine the apparatus. They did so and reported most favorably, and recommended that it be at once placed on board some steamer in the navy. An order was then issued to fit up the iron steamer Palos, a beautiful little gunboat of the fourth class, at the Navy Yard here, for full and complete experiments, and Alexander Henderson, Chief Engineer of this Navy Yard, an energetic, accomplished and skilful officer, was appointed President of a Board for experiment, consisting of himself and Chief Engineers Moore, Baker and Kellogg, and eight Assistant Engineers.

Their experiments are now in progress. Having heard very wonderful accounts of the success of several preliminary trials there, we made a visit to the yard a day or two since, went on board the Palos, and made a personal examination of the whole apparatus and all the machinery of the boat, which was in motion with a full head of steam.

The apparatus is simple and inexpensive, consisting of a small iron box or retort located in the place of the grate bars, and having burners all round it. Its bottom is kept hot by burners beneath. The oil is carried into it by a small iron pipe and vaporizes as soon as it enters. Steam is then introduced through a coil of iron pipe filled with filings and located over the burners, where it is intensely heated and decomposed, and its gasses enter the retort, into which air is at the same time forced, and the whole forms a gas which escapes from some nine hundred burners, where it burns with a clear, intense blue flame, completely filling the furnace and extending into or through the flues. The heat is very great. It emits no smoke, can be increased or diminished in a moment, or be entirely extinguished by turning a stop-cock.

The apparatus is very simple, and any part of it, if broken, can be repaired or made anew by any mechanic. No alteration of boilers is required. It will burn wherever coal will, and the fire can be run by any man of ordinary intelligence after an hour's instruction.

It dispenses with all coal heavers and requires but one man to every two or three fires, to keep them in perfect order. It is clean and convenient, and saves the time and trouble of taking in coal and disposing of ashes, and, there being no sulpher in the oil, as there always is in coal, the boilers and flues will be more durable, notwithstanding the greater intensity of the fire. But the great value of this invention in steamers is the gain in space and tonnage. The amount of fuel required is only about one-seventh of the weight and bulk required of anthracite coal, and the inventor is satisfied that after perfecting his apparatus it will take less than one-tenth, leaving all the remainder for freight or passage room. If this fire succeeds, as we believe it must, it will enable ships to steam from sixty to one hundred days, and to visit ports in all parts of the world, from which they are now excluded, while the direct gain will be immense. For instance, the Cunard steamers take 1,200 tons of coal on every passage and burn about 1,000. Now two hundred tons of petroleum, costing about the same as the coal, will do the work better, saving one thousand tons freight. This at eighteen dollars a ton would amount to thirty-six thousand dollars on each trip, and in the eight trips made in a year, to nearly three hundred thousand dollars, to which must be added the extra expense of wages and food, of coal heavers, wear of machinery and journals by coal dust, wharf room for coal, &c. The enormous saving which this method makes in freighting vessels is a consideration of first importance, and must cause its immediate introduction into nearly all steamers as soon as its utility becomes generally known. It is equally applicable to locomotives, an important desideratum in localities where wood and coal are scarce, as for illustration upon the new Pacific Railroad, which, when completed, would require fuel trains in constant operation to keep wood and coal stations supplied; while with this invention, the tender of a locomotive can carry a sufficient supply for three to five hundred miles.

There is another advantage of which we cannot now speak at length. On board the Palos, during the trials with screened anthracite, the highest number of revolutions they were able to give the propeller, with all the coal they could burn, was less than forty, while on a preliminary trial with Col. Foote's apparatus, she easily gave over fifty revolutions for several hours, and fully held her steam, thus showing that, with this fire, a boat can run from two to four knots faster than she can with coal or wood, and as the heat is equally distributed along the crown sheets and through the flues, but little if any "foaming" is caused. This must shorten the distance to Europe about two days, and a steamer's time from St. Louis or Cincinnati, to New Orleans and back, from three to six days, and save all wooding up along the route. We predict that the first line on the Mississippi which adopts this fire, will do the largest business and as oil can be floated down Oil Creek, the Allegheny and the Ohio, it will be cheap in the West, and soon all steamers there must use it.

Our first question on the Palos was, "Is it safe?" But after examining the apparatus, we were fully convinced that, when properly managed, there is no more danger than from coal. The oil is to be carried in double iron tanks, the outer space of an inch or so filled with water, and stowed in separate iron compartments in remote parts of the ship, and having small pipes carrying overboard any gases which may rise, while the oil itself is carried to the fires by a half-inch pipe. It seems almost impossible that an accident should occur except through gross carelessness. Mr. Stimers, who, in a written report to Mr. Allen, says: "Col. Foote's process is the most philosophically correct one for burning any fuel I have ever known to be tried in a steam boiler," adds "I can see no difficulty in carrying petroleum safely in steamers. The only thing to be done is to stow it properly. I cannot see that more care need be employed for petroleum than for coal, but it must be of a different kind."

The working of this invention has been examined by many eminent and practical men, who have endorsed it in the strongest manner; indeed, the whole operation is so remarkably simple and free from complication, as to require but little explanation; and the spectacle which presents itself, of the great furnaces of a steam vessel in full blast, and driving the engines at their full speed, with only two men sitting quietly on camp-stools in a clean fire-room, in comparative leisure, and increasing or diminishing heat by simply turning a faucet, with no coal, cinders, ashes, or rubbish about them, is such an unusual one to those who have been accustomed to the dust, noise and confusion of coal passers and firemen, the continual opening of furnace doors, and consequent deadening of fires, the exhaustive labor and number of men employed, that one sees at once, in this invention, an enormous stride forward in Steam Navigation.

We understand that, after the wharf trials are concluded, a trial at sea is expected to be made, for the purpose of subjecting the invention to the severest test possible. We shall watch the whole experiment with great interest, and will advise our readers of whatever we learn, either for or against it. Should any of them desire to learn more of the invention than the space of a newspaper article can give, we presume Mr. Allen will promptly answer all inquiries. Our thanks are due to him and Col. Foote, and the naval officers and engineers on board the Palos, for courtesies, enabling us to witness all the details of working and machinery, and of the invention, on that ship.

Evidences of an Ancient Civilization in Michigan.

The Grand Traverse Herald published the following interesting communication over the signature of T. H. C.: "I noticed in your issue of March 15th, an article headed a 'Western Wonder,' a descriptive sketch of a walled lake in Wright county, Iowa. Michigan also contains proofs of once having been peopled by an enterprising set of men fully equal to that of Iowa. One proof is Walled Lake, in Oakland county, town of West Bloomfield. There is a lake 4,000 or more acres in area, with two walls from four to ten feet high, built across the east end of the lake, some twenty feet apart, and the space between is filled to the top of the walls with dirt and stones. The walls are about half a mile long. The country east of the lake is a low, flat piece of land, timbered now with a heavy growth of ash, elm and swamp oak, with several other varieties interspersed. There was, sixteen years ago, several white pine trees growing on and between the walls, some of them two feet in diameter. The water in the lake is some four or five feet higher than the land east of it, and a break in the walls or dam would inundate the whole country for a long distance. The stones used to construct the walls seem to have been quarried, as they are in large square blocks, or slabs, except where the action of the water has worn or crumbled them. There is no quarry of stone known to me within many miles of the lake. There is plenty of cobble stone a few miles north-east of the lake. The road now runs past the east end of the lake on the dam, or walls, evidently the purpose for which it was constructed, as there are other evidences of paved roads built about the same period, and probably by the same race of people. One exists in Van Buren county, town of Decatur, through which passes a large swamp from northeast to southwest, some two miles wide and thirty miles long. A portion of the swamp in the town of Decatur seems once to have been a lake, to the extent of perhaps 3,000 acres. There is a stone road, some twenty feet wide on the top, running across near the middle of what was at once a lake from northeast to southwest, a distance of some two and a half miles long. The road now lies from two to six feet below the surface most of the way, and seems to have been built in the water, which is now grown over with a turf of grass, strong enough to be perfectly safe for pedestrian exercise. I have tried it in many places with a pole, and found the turf to be about three feet thick, with water under, but to what depth I have never been able to determine, as I could find no bottom. I could easily determine the locality and width of the road by the same means. This road must have been built at an immense expense of labor, as there is no stone within five or six miles of it; and to have filled the lake to depth of at least twenty feet, and probably in some places one hundred feet, with material brought from the distance those stones must have been brought, is a job that few would care to undertake in this age of progress. Who the people were, or at what age they lived, is yet a matter of conjecture."

The Gaming of Boston.

A few evenings ago an interesting meeting was held in a boys' night school in Boston. Out of forty who were requested to remain after school, thirty-four had been arrested for petty offences. One at thirteen had been arrested seven times. Two "fast boys" of the ages of ten and eleven stole a horse and carriage, went off to ride, and received a year at the island. One, seven years old, for stealing pies, was at the island for two years. Two others, nine years old, coal pickers, have each been to the island, and both smoke and chew. Pretty "fast" for nine years! Two, aged eleven and thirteen, sing and dance in lager beer saloons. Of the three hundred boys who have attended this school the past term, twenty per cent. have already been arrested once or more, eighteen per cent. are without homes, and "bunk out" on wharves, lumber yards, and in every available nook and corner; forty per cent. have lost one parent, twenty per cent. are newsboys, twenty-five per cent. bootblacks, twenty per cent. coal and rag-pickers, ten per cent. are in bowling alleys and liquor saloons, twenty per cent. in stores, offices and markets. Nearly every one of them use tobacco, smoke, chew, and the reports adds, somewhat inconsequentially, attend confessional.

Gold receded to 139¼ this morning on receipt of a probable amicable solution of the difficulties between France and Germany. The bull element, nevertheless, purchased heavy this morning, perparatory to a further rise, which is inevitable, even if the European news is more favorable, the heavy purchases within the last few days being made with a view to carry the market much higher.

Government securities are somewhat better, but there is no demand for them at present quotations. Railroad shares are stronger, and parties who hold stocks at higher rates are very confident of getting better prices yet. The great abundance of money in the eastern cities, together with the return of confidence, give a stimulus to stock and other business, and a revival of trade generally.

Mining shares are lower for all the fancies; only first class stocks are held firmly. The local money market works very close.

—The following telegram, dated Pittsburgh, April 24, in regard to the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, is made, we presume, by authority:

"We are assured that there is no ground for the report that the stock of the Fort Wayne Railroad would be increased $15,000,000, to be offered to the stockholders at 30 per cent. A meeting on the subject is yet to be called, and the question will be submitted, when its propriety may be determined. It would seem that such privilege, as above stated, to the stockholders or those who may buy on sufficient time, would increase the value of the stock to the present holders, instead of reducing it."

—The New York Times, in referring to the probability of a foreign war, and the probable effect on gold and Government bonds says:

"There is no particular feeling about keeping gold down at home, while our United States bonds are falling abroad. If they are to return here in any considerable amounts, which is extremely doubtful, they will have to be resold cheap for gold, not as last year, at a large profit to the German English speculators on gold from the Treasury at 130 per cent. The probability is that actual war will check the fall in Frankfort, and that the English market (in a very different condition now both as to the supply of 5-20s and the rate of money from last May,) will readily absorb all the bonds that are to be forced from the Continent on the mere apprehension of hostilities." While there is no scarcity of gold on the market here, at a price, both the Treasury and the American holders of the May coupons on the Public Debt, who have $15,000,000 to receive next week, will assuredly take good care to make the price quite equal to the supposed emergency, for exporting the precious metal. The Foreign holders of $8,500,000 May coupons are free and welcome to do with this sum of gold whatever the state and supply of the Foreign Exchanges may seem to render desirable."

—The loan of thirty millions to the Mexican Republic as represented by Juarez, which was advertised for sale in New York some time ago, promises to prove an unprofitable investment for those who were induced to purchase the bonds by the large discount and high rate of interest offered. The semi-annual interest due on the 1st instant has not been paid by the agents, their plea being that they have no funds to the credit of the Republic of Mexico—an announcement which will be likely to surprise few beyond those who were credulous enough to subscribe to the loan originally.

—Some of the banks in Boston have been in the habit of taking receipts instead of notes for loans, by which large amount were saved on stamps. In one insurance a two-cent stamp was used where the law required stamps amounting to two hundred and fifty dollars. This is Boston morals. The ingenuity of the thing is almost worth a patent.

New York Financial Matters.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

New York, April 26.—The plethora of money continues, and the demand is only absorbing a small portion of the offerings. Call loans 4@6; prime discounts, 6½@7. Sterling dull but firm at 109¾@109⅞. Gold declined under reports of bonds at London at 69⅝, and Cotton 11d. at Liverpool. Cash gold more plenty. Loans at 3 6-4 per cent. to flat, and the closing prices at 38¾. Governments in good demand and higher. Railroad market quiet, but quite firm with an advance on New York Central and Northwestern. The latter was more active and strong at the one o'clock board, higher at the second board, and again higher at the last open board, closing with a strong speculative feeling. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Friday, April 26, 1867.

The general markets are again a little excited, and especially is this the case in regard to Flour and Grain, and the advance in gold has stiffened up Coffee and Sugars. Wheat advanced 7@8c per bushel in Chicago, on Thursday, and Flour both there and in Milwaukee, went up considerably, and the end, from present appearances, is not yet.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet—no stock in this market. Corn is in demand and advancing. Prime Yellow, on the spot, is held at $1,10, with buyers at from $1,05 to $1,08. Sale of 600 bush, to arrive, at $1. Oats in good supply and a little dull but unchanged; sale of 2 cars at 62c; 150 sacks at 63c; 250 bush at 65c. Rye may be quoted at $1,58 to $1,60. Sale of 100 bush Spring Barley at $1,10.

FLOUR—Is firm and somewhat excited, with an advancing tendency. We now quote at $14,50 to $15 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for Winter Wheat, and $18 to $19 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $9.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 9¼ to 10c for Shoulders; 11¾ to 12¾c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 14c Plain Hams; 15¼ to 15¾c for Plain Sugar Cured, and 19¼ to 16¾c for Canvassed. Dried Beef, 23c. Lard, 13c, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23,50 per barrel.

BUTTER—The market continues dull, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, prices are barely maintained. Prime to choice Roll cannot fairly be quoted above 28 to 30c.

EGGS—Dull and unchanged, sales reported at 15 to 16c.

FISH—Sales of 72 half bbls Lake Herring at $4.25; and 30 half bbls White Fish at $8.

HAY—Sales of 71 bales, on wharf, at $25; and 1 car, to arrive, at $26. Stock of good Hay is light, while common is dull and almost unsaleable.

MILL FEED—Sale of 2 tons Bran at $1,75. Middlings may be quoted at $2,25, and Seconds at $2.

ASHES—Sales of common Soda Ash at 5¼; Refined do at 5¾c; and Pearls at 14c.

POTATOES—Dull but unchanged; may be quoted at 90c, on track, and 95c to $1, in store.

GREEN APPLES—Quiet and unchanged; sales reported all the way from $4 to $8, as to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Friday, April 26, 1867.

CRUDE—The market for Crude continues dull but unchanged—6½@6¾, on spot; 6¾ to 7 for May, 7¼ for first half and 7½ for last half of June—sale of 1200 bbls, spot, at 6¾. There are no new features in the trade worthy of notice; there are but comparatively few buyers, either for present or future delivery, the tank buyers having apparently subsided, and our refiners generally are full and overflowing. We have no late advices from Oil City—$2,35 to $2,40 on Thursday, at which price there is nothing left for the dealer, as it is only worth, at the outside, $2,70, delivered here.

REFINED—The transactions in bonded oil were larger than usual to-day, the reported sales reaching six thousand barrels, in the aggregate, but prices remain unchanged, and the market is weak and unsettled. Sale of 2500 bbls standard white, running from August to December, 500 each month, at 30c, delivered in Philadelphia; 2500 more, same delivery and same price; 500 for June, at 27½c, and 500 for July, at 28c. Spot oil may be quoted nominally at 20 to 20½c for prime light straw to white, and 21½c for standard white, on board cars here; 26 to 26½c for the former, delivered in Philadelphia, and 27¼ to 27½c for the latter. Free oil is dull and unchanged.

ARRIVALS—But on arrival reported today, 2600 bbls for Fisher & Bro.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Friday, April 26, 1867.

The market for both Metal and Blooms continues dull and depressed, though it is thought that their will be an improvement in the demand within the next few days, as it is probable that some of the nail mills will start up, and, possibly, one or two of the bar mills. The general impression, however, seems to be that there will be no general resumption until late in the summer, as already the best part of the spring trade has been lost, and there is no inducement for mill owners to work up a big stock based upon prices of metal and labor. As we remarked in our last report, the stock of manufactured iron and nails is pretty well reduced, but as the season advances, orders fall off, and the indications at present are that quite a number of mills will remain idle all summer. Of course, all the mills that start up now will be obliged to pay the old price for puddling, and while this may be regarded as a triumph for the strikers, the resumption will not amount to much, and the victory will thus be shorn of its greatest proportions. The stock of metal has accumulated somewhat, and prices are tending downward, though the supply is not as large as generally supposed, as the receipts have fallen off materially within the last few weeks.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is falling slowly with scant eight feet by the Allegheny marks, and six feet eight inches by the Monongahela. Four feet reported in Allegheny at Oil City. The weather was clear and pleasant, and all that could possibly have been desired for the transaction of out-door business. Freights for all points continue scarce, and boats experience great difficulty in picking up a full trip.

The Echo arrived from Oil City, and the Ida Rees No. 2 cleared for that point last evening. The Urilda is due to-day. The Rees had a very respectable trip, though she could have taken more.

The Kate Putnam left for St. Louis last evening with a very good trip, including a considerable amount of railroad iron. The Robt. Moore arrived and departed for Portsmouth, The Bellevernon, from St. Louis, is due here to-day, having left Cincinnati on Tuesday.

The America, Capt. T. H. Golding, with the Messrs. Clarke, father and son, in the office, leaves for New Orleans to-day without fail, taking passengers and freight for all intermediate points. The Minnie, Capt. A. H. Shaw, with Mr. A C McConnell in the office, is now in turn for St. Louis, and will be the first boat out for that point.

The Peerless, Capt. T H Williams, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving at noon or shortly thereafter, and shippers should get their freight and bills of lading down as early in the day as possible.

Yesterday, just as the Parkersburg packet, Leni Leoti, had backed out from the wharf-boat, and while attempting to round to she swung in against the America, breaking oil her fan-tail, and damaging her wheel badly. The accident, we suppose, could not be avoided, as there was a pretty stiff wind at the time, and a hind wheel boat is hard to manage in a stern-wind. The accident, however, was not a very serious one, and will not prevent the America from leaving to-day as advertised.

The Armadillo was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday. The towboats Alps, Arrow, Shark and Hero were at Cairo on Tuesday last.

The Louisville papers claim that the Richmond on her recent up trip made the best time that has been made during the past six years. This may be but we should like to have more reliable authority.

We learn from our Cincinnati exchanges that the Peerless, now at the landing, has been sold to Capt. John B. Coffman, who designs placing her in the Cincinnati and Chilo trade in opposition to the present incumbent. Price is not stated.

The Ezra Porter arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday, and after discharging one hundred and twenty tons proceeded on to St. Louis.

The Dubuque (Iowa) Times gives the following programme for the welcome of the new steamer City of Dubuque.

The firemen and citizens will meet and form at the Globe Building, and proceed, headed by the Germania Band, to the levee, where the Mayor, in behalf of our city, will present the beatiful set of colors. Then Commodore Tom Levins will present the horns, a set finer than adorns any boat on the river. The boat will then be open to the inspection of our citizens. In the evening the officers will receive the donors of the colors at a banquet.

It is reported that a company is to be organized for the purpose of building a canal around the falls on the Indiana side, to be used by steam and other kinds of boats, and for manufacturing purposes. Government will probably be asked to donate a couple of millions of acres of land to aid in the construction of the work, for which grant special privileges will be guaranteed the Government in the use of water power.

It is said that experienced pilots on the Missouri river are now receiving twelve hundred dollars per month for their services. At those figures, some of the pilots make more money than the steamboats.

The following news from the Missouri is not very flattering to mountain steamers: "All the mountain boats we met are having more or less trouble. Joe Ohlman's craft was making bully time. The Antelope broke her nigger trying to pull around the point at Cambridge. The river is very high, and the country overflowed at many points. The fine farms are all washing away in the river in many places. The river is still rising, and some of the boats bound for the mountains will never get there."

The St. Louis Democrat says: Our citizens awoke yesterday morning, and found the Great Republic at the wharf. A crowd of visitors, similar in extent and character to those by which she was visited at other cities, poured through and around her all day. We need hardly remark that they saw much to admire.

The Louisville Courier, of Wednesday, says. The towboat Victor Wilson came in from Pittsburgh yesterday with a heavy tow of coal for Capt. Packer, for Natchez. She takes the place of the Dick Fulton, recently burnt at Pittsburgh.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, of Thursday, says: The Armadillo arrived from Memphis yesterday, and will leave this evening for Pittsburgh positively. She has two hundred tons of freight for that port from below. She is a substantial boat, and is in charge of very clever and careful officers. Capt. Chenowith is in command, with Capt. Swaney in the office.

AGENTS WANTED FOR GENERAL L. C. BAKER'S HISTORY OF THE SECRET SERVICE.

This work was announced more than a year ago, but owing to the attempts of the Government to suppress it, its publication was delayed. It will now be issued, unaltered and unabridged, under the supervision of General Baker. These marvellous narratives are all attested by the highest official authority.

The Morals of the National Capital are thoroughly ventilated, and there are some strange revelations concerning Heads of Departments, Members of Congress, Female Pardon Brokers, and distinguished military characters.

Send for Circulars and see our terms, and a full description of the work.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost sure to demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in its proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 8 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He found the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicines I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the soreness of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE which I took in connection with the other treatment. GEORGE FORD.

Pittsburgh, March 25, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN C. WISHAN, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 186[illegible], on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away [illegible] flesh and was unable to do anything [illegible] coming home from the army, I [illegible] physicians of my neighborhood [illegible] wards, [illegible] in Pittsburgh [illegible] ties, whose remedies I used [illegible] months, without any benefit [illegible] or grew worse, and wasted in flesh [illegible] every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunk on away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN C. WISHAN,
Turtle Creek.

Pittsburgh, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP, I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself for a cold and cough. The medicine cured me in taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years ago was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to DR. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.
